

VOCATIONAL STUDENT HANDBOOK

CENTRE NUMBER 54433

Learner Agreement

As part of starting our vocational courses, we like to operate a partnership between Teachers, Parents and Learners and put an agreement in place.

This document begins to introduce the requirements and expectations to be able to successfully complete our vocational courses.

What do we expect?

Learner responsibility

Maturity and the highest standards of adult behaviour will be expected from all students at all times. Students studying for vocational awards are to aspire to be role models and maintain a high profile both within and outside of school.

Teacher responsibility

- Ensure that the teaching meets the requirements of the Awarding Body and the learner
- Provide the experience and training to achieve the learning objectives.

Parent/Carers responsibility

I have read the responsibilities above and agree to support the above named learner in maintaining these standards. This document will be emailed to parents and available for reference on the website.

Each student will be asked to confirm at the start of their vocational course they have read and understand this document in an online form.

What are Vocational Qualifications?

Vocational qualifications are nationally recognised qualifications. They are different from traditional GCSE and A Levels because they are linked to a particular area of work.

What makes Vocational Qualifications different?

- Students develop skills, knowledge and understanding in the vocational area they are studying.
- Each vocational course is made up of a number of units, allowing students to build up their qualification in stages.
- Students are assessed through coursework and sometimes Exams.
- Students produce evidence for their key skills qualification through their vocational course.
- Students take responsibility for their own learning by planning their work, doing research and regularly reviewing their progress.

Why do we offer BTEC courses?

- They prepare students for the world of work and provide a good starting point for other qualifications such as NVQs that can be studied in the workplace.
- Employers value the qualities that vocational students bring to the workplace e.g. organisation, time management, communication and research skills.
- Universities value the independent study skills that vocational students bring to their courses.
- The courses are flexible so that they meet the needs of a wide range of students. They are available at different levels in a variety of formats. They can be taken alongside other qualifications such as traditional GCSEs, A levels.
- They give students the opportunity to try a range of activities such as designing products, organising events, investigating how professionals work and working in teams.

What is a BTEC Qualification?

- Each BTEC is made up of a number of units. Some units are mandatory (you have to do them) and some optional (your teacher has a choice which one you complete).
- In order to achieve each unit, your assignments have to show achievement against a set of outcomes.
- Each unit has a certain Credit value, for example 5, 10 or 20 Credits or equivalent Guided Learning Hours (GLH)
- As you complete units, the total number of credits or GLH you achieve builds up until you have met the requirements for a particular qualification.
- QCF BTECs are wholly assignment based; NQF BTECs have at least one unit which is externally assessed.
- The assignments and external assessments that you complete form the basis of unit results and an overall result.

Who will teach you and what are assignment briefs?

You may be taught by more than one teacher, each teacher will be responsible for teaching different units (or parts of a unit), so that means that you may be working on two or even three different units at the same time. You will have to be well organised and remember to keep information in the right places in your paper based/digital folders.

You will be taught the background information by doing class activities and research tasks. Then you will be given an assignment to complete. The assignment will be written or practical with simple tasks first to give you the opportunity to achieve the basic pass level, then the more complex tasks that require more research and independence will allow you to achieve merit and distinction grades. It is important to meet the deadlines so that you can get feedback from your teacher and understand how to reach the higher grades.

Assignment briefs are issued when the teaching for that part of the unit (or the learning outcome) is complete and your teacher is satisfied that you are ready to complete an assignment. They are your reference point for assessment throughout the unit and therefore should always be at hand; especially when writing your assignments.

Each assignment brief contains:

- Assignment title Date issued
- Hand in date/Deadlines
- Qualification covered
- Learning aims covered
- Units covered
- The scenario (a written outline of details of the plot and individual scenes to describe the next steps required).
- Evidence you must produce
- Criteria covered by the tasks
- Sources of information

If you have any doubt about the requirements of an assignment, you should ask your teacher for clarification, well before the deadline.

Always check the brief to ensure you have completed all the necessary tasks. Your evidence should be word processed unless otherwise stated on the assignment brief. You should always keep a scanned copy of any handwritten assignments for your reference. All Assignments graded and returned to you will be placed in your own student file which must remain at Plympton Academy. All work within the assignments must be your own work.

Assignment Layout

Your Name

Plympton Academy – Assignment Title

This is an introduction to the overall document content.

You will notice that this assignment has been laid out in a very specific way.

Start by writing your name at the very top of the document, make it so the title is also obvious, and so is the subtitle.

You will also notice that the text is neatly justified (left and right) and the chosen font is easy to read (Verdana).

The spelling is correct, has been proofread and the line spacing, paragraph indents and overall layout has obviously been thought out. Also, any pictures entered are relevant, clear, and well positioned.

Sources Table

What is the source about?	Who is the author?	Where did you find it? Include full URLs, titles, page numbers	How do you know the source is reliable?	How do you know the information is up-to-date?	Why do you think the information is relevant?	Where will/did you use it?
		etc.

The questions raised in this Sources Table are thought out and will answer every question that the person who is marking your work might have. The purpose of the Sources Table is to show that you have thoroughly researched your work and if it needs checking, it can be done easily. The title for the Sources Table is also clear, written in bold and is underlined.

What will happen in lessons?

The lessons will vary according to the subject and level but all students should experience most of these activities:

- Discussion one to one or in groups
- Research group or individual using a variety of methods
- Report writing manually or using ICT
- Presentations in groups or individually
- Practical work
- Display work
- Visits to organisations/companies
- Work with visitors
- Preparation for external examinations for the newer BTEC courses

Which styles of teaching and learning will be used?

Different styles of teaching and learning will be required throughout the course. This will depend on the unit being taught, the stage of delivery and the type of assessment required for that unit.

Teacher input

At the start of a unit there is likely to be teacher input; question and answer sessions, discussions, note taking and handouts. This may all happen at the beginning of a unit or at different points throughout the unit. It is important for you to note any information you are given, as it may be required at a later stage in the unit.

Learning by experience

Learning by experience and is usually done in the workplace (e.g. work experience or work placement) or by setting up work situations in the classroom (e.g. a role play of a business interview or a healthcare worker communicating with a client). Whether real or pretend, a lot can be learned from this type of situation and it is important to make the most of it by preparing thoroughly beforehand and recording any information you find. Inviting visitors into school from the vocational sector is another good way of linking your work with what really happens in the workplace.

Student investigation

Once the assignment has been explained and the tasks have been set, you will have to work on your own to find the information you need and then you will have to produce the information in a particular format to meet the requirements of the task. The work you produce must be your own; word for word copying from a textbook, or copying and pasting from the Internet will not be accepted nor will you be allowed to copy the work of other students. You will have to check regularly with your teacher to make sure that your work is correct and to discuss any ideas that you want to develop.

Group work

For some tasks you may have to work in a group, either to find information or to produce evidence. This is quite acceptable providing that all students take an equal share of the work and that individual contributions are identified.

Practical Work

As required by the course. This will be made clear to you by your Teacher if this is part of your course.

Developing skills

- During your course you will be taught many skills: communication skills
- Research skills using a variety of methods
- I.T. skills using a variety of programs
- Practical skills using different techniques and equipment
- Presentation skills using a variety of formats
- Organisational skills

You will be expected to practise these skills and apply them where appropriate throughout the course.

What will be expected of you?

You will be expected to do all of the following as part of your day-to-day work

- Read and research
- Keep a record of the information you find and the sources
- Plan your work in a logical order and keep a record of your progress
- Talk to your teachers about your ideas and how to achieve the best results
- Produce drafts and final copies of your work
- Produce good quality work with high standards of grammar and spelling
- Present your work in a suitable format according to the purpose and the audience
- Evaluate your work and make suggestions for improvement
- Meet deadlines as outlined in the assessment calendars which your teachers will provide
- Keep a record of the work you have completed, including the grades and points you have been awarded
- Produce independant and authentic work

Who will be involved with the course?

Subject teachers (assessors)

They are responsible for planning lessons, preparing resources, assessing work and making sure that the units are completed on time. They will track the results of each unit, which will come together to give an overall result.

Programme manager

This is the teacher in charge of the course. They must make sure that the units are being taught correctly and that sufficient resources are available.

Internal Verifier

They will check (IV) the assessment of all teachers on the course; they sample the work of all students on the course and provide written feedback. The IV works with the external verifier.

Quality Nominee

This person oversees all of the vocational courses to make sure that standards are being met. This will be done by:

- Visiting lessons
- Looking at students' work
- Collecting information on student achievement
- Surveying teacher/student views

External Verifier

This person has knowledge of the subject and the course and will visit to sample the work from one unit (see below for more details).

Exam Officer

The examinations officer is responsible for registering students for the course and for claiming qualifications with the Quality Nominee.

How will your work be assessed?

All students will have to produce a portfolio of evidence. For each unit of work you will be given a series of tasks to complete. Your teacher will check your work and make comments about the effort you have made and the quality of your work. Suggestions will be made to help you to achieve first, the minimum pass standard and then, the merit and distinction grades. Points will be awarded and added to your overall score with every unit that you complete. This will be communicated to you via an Assessment Record Sheet. You will be expected to meet regular deadlines and a referral procedure will operate for students who fail to do this.

If you are studying one of the BTEC programmes that has an exam, your teacher will guide you and help to prepare you for an external examination which may be a paper exam or an onscreen exam. This will be taken under formal exam conditions.

Learning may partly take place remotely (known as Blended Learning). You will receive full instructions from your Teacher if this is the case. All rules, regulations and deadlines will remain in place as if you are in the classroom. Assignments will still take place. Learning and support will be provided by screen castify, google classrooms and Zoom.

How to achieve the grades

The tasks at each level are graded according to how difficult they are to achieve. The key words used in the tasks will help you to understand what you have to do.

- Justify the main features on the website of a large successful organisation of your choice.

How will standards of work be maintained?

Internal Verification

This is a quality control check to ensure that all students' work is being fairly marked and standards are being maintained. When a unit of work has been assessed and graded it will be passed to another teacher in the department who will check that all of the tasks have been completed to the appropriate standard. It may be necessary at this stage, for you, to amend your work, if it does not meet the standards set by other students, who have been awarded the same grade.

Storage of work

You may be provided with a ring binder/ folder in which to keep your ongoing studio work and home learning or you may work digitally and store your work as a Google Doc. You will be responsible for your work and must bring it to all lessons.

All completed, paper based graded work will be in a centralised folder for you and stored in a locked filing cabinet until external verification takes place and the final marks have been submitted.

All completed, electronic based graded work will be stored on the Google Drive and access permissions will be changed to reflect this. It is your responsibility to look after and secure any electronic work. You might do this by taking electronic copies of your work.

Plagiarism and Malpractice

In order to achieve a BTEC qualification, you must produce your own work.

You will not be allowed to:

- Copy word for word from textbooks
- Copy and paste from the Internet
- Copy from other students (past or present)

The examination board has a clear policy on how to deal with students who cheat. If you copy the work of another student you will risk having your work cancelled and may achieve nothing. If you lend your work to others, you will also risk having your work cancelled. If you steal another student's work and copy it, the exam board may cancel all of your courses.

Do not cheat, remember your teachers are very good at detecting work that has been copied!

How will student progress be monitored?

BTEC Assessment Policy and Plympton Academy Appeals Procedure - Student Guidance

INTRODUCTION

Plympton Academy takes its responsibility for ensuring the quality and reliability of assessment very seriously. It recognises that high quality assessment practices are an important element of the student experience and that the outcomes of assessment influence students' future lives.

Courses are assessed through tutor-marked assignments (as well as external exams in the case of new courses.) You need to be aware of the volume of work that needs to be generated on an on-going basis to complete these assignments and the importance of getting that work handed in for assessment by the given deadline.

You will be closely monitored throughout the course and your subject teachers will keep detailed records of your progress using an Assessment Tracker. You will be informed of your progress on an ongoing basis. This information will also be used for assessment snapshots, parental communication and regular updates will be sent to tutors and Phase Leads to follow up where necessary.

Assessment Entitlement

As a student of Plympton Academy, you are entitled to:

- Fair and open assessment practices.
- An assignment indicating the criteria against which you will be assessed.
- Regular advice and guidance through subject teachers.
- Access to an open and fair appeals procedure
- Assessments being carried out regularly and outcomes reported with written and/or verbal feedback

Assessment Procedures

Handing in Assignments and Submission Declaration

We encourage you to understand the importance of deadlines and of handing work in on time. It is important that you do not get an advantage by having additional time to complete assignments and subject teachers are not required to accept assessment work that was not completed by the date in the assignment brief.

- You will be given a deadline for each assignment
- You will be required to sign a Submission Declaration. This is a signed-and-dated declaration of authenticity that you submit alongside each assignment which confirms you have produced the evidence yourself.
- You will be given oral/written feedback on your work.
- Your teacher will then give you ONE MORE OPPORTUNITY to upgrade your work based on the feedback you will be given. ONLY IF YOU MEET THE DEADLINE AND YOU ATTEMPT THE CRITERIA. Your work will then be re-submitted to your teacher within an agreed time.

Failure to meet deadlines

- If you fail to hand in work by the agreed deadline you will need to provide evidence of special circumstance. It will not be acceptable to say to your teacher that you did not have time to complete the assignment
- A failure on your part may result in you not having the opportunity to upgrade your work for a merit or distinction level

Can you appeal against a grade?

Once your work has been assessed and a grade recorded, that grade will stand, unless the internal verifier requires that the grade be changed. Students can appeal against a grading decision made by the assessor. Details of the appeals procedure are available from the Examinations Officer and are also outlined in the next pages.

BTEC Candidate Malpractice Procedures

Teachers are responsible for checking the validity of the learner's internally assessed units. This will avoid candidate malpractice.

Examples of Candidate Malpractice:

- Making a false declaration of authenticity. (Example, when sections of the work have been done by others.)
- Misusing assessment material and resources.
- The inclusion of inappropriate, offensive or obscene material in coursework assignments.
- Theft (where a candidate's work is removed or stolen), with the intention to pass the coursework off as one's own.
- The alteration of any results document, including certificates.
- A breach of the instructions or advice of a teacher in relation to the assessment rules and regulations.
- Failing to abide by the conditions of supervision designed to maintain the security of the BTEC assessments.
- Collusion: Working collaboratively with other candidates, beyond what is permitted.
- Copying from another candidate, allowing work to be copied.
- The deliberate destruction of another's work.
- Disruptive behaviour during an assessment session (including the use of offensive language).
- Assisting others in the production of coursework.
- Plagiarism: Unacknowledged copying from published sources; incomplete referencing.

How to deter candidate malpractice:

Teachers should ensure that a large proportion of assigned work is completed with supervision.

The Programme Manager or teacher should cover the following topics with all learners during the induction period:

- Inform learners of the Centre's policy on malpractice and the penalties for attempted and actual incidents of malpractice.
- Show learners the appropriate formats to record cited texts and other materials or information sources including websites.
- Refer to the BTEC Centre Handbook and Student Handbook for policies.

Programme Managers should also introduce procedures for assessing work in a way that reduces or identifies malpractice, e.g. plagiarism, collusion, cheating, etc.

These procedures may include:

- Periods of supervised sessions during which evidence assignments/tasks/coursework is produced by the learner.
- Altering assessment assignments/tasks/tools on a regular basis.
- The assessor assessing work for a single assignment/task in a single session for the complete cohort of learners.
- Using oral questions with learners to ascertain their understanding of the concepts, application, etc. within their work.
- Assessors getting to know their learner's styles and abilities, etc.

Learners have a responsibility to ensure all work they hand in to be marked is their own. Any additional help or support that they have received must be reported to the assessor before the candidate signs the authentication of work statement.

Responding to suspected candidate malpractice

This will be reported to the Programme Manager who will inform the Quality Nominee and the Exams Officer. An investigation of the alleged malpractice will follow. Consequences will vary on the outcome of the investigation but may include the candidate's malpractice being reported to Edexcel. This may result in the candidate being withdrawn from the course and/or being prevented from taking a qualification with this board for one year.

BTEC Appeals Procedure

All students will be informed about the Appeals Procedure and have access to a copy of the written procedure.

The Appeals Procedure is set in three stages and will be overseen by the Quality Nominee.

The Head of the Centre will be provided with any appeals and their outcome.

There are only 3 grounds on which a learner can appeal: -

1. If he/she feels the grading criteria were being met and the teacher failed to recognise this.

- 2. If he/she feels that they have not been supported appropriately during the assessment of the unit by the assessor.
- 3. If the teacher is not willing to accept alternative evidence as meeting the evidence requirement

Stage 1

- 1. The learner communicates the grounds for appeal to the assessor by completing the Stage 1 of the Appeals form and providing the evidence for assessment. The learner can obtain the form from the Programme Manager.
- 2. The assessor makes the Programme Manager and Quality Nominee aware of the grounds for appeal and then re-assesses the work in the normal way against the unit requirements.
- 3. The assessor will complete the outcome part of the Stage 1 form.
- 4. The assessor communicates the reassessment to the learner and makes the Programme Manager aware of the outcome.
- 5. If the learner is still dissatisfied with the outcome of the first stage of appeal, then they can progress to Stage 2.

Stage 2

- The learner communicates the grounds for appeal by completing the second stage of the Appeals form and supplying the relevant evidence to the Lead Internal Verifier – unless the initial decision was made by the Lead Internal Verifier, in which case another assessor from the same programme, or a Lead Internal Verifier from another programme undertakes this role.
- The Lead Internal Verifier, or other verifier, makes the Quality Nominee aware that the appeal has reached the second stage. The Programme Manager internally verifies the work in the normal way against the unit requirements.
- 3. The Lead Internal Verifier will complete the outcome part of the Stage 2 form.
- 4. The Lead Internal Verifier communicates the outcome of the internal verification of the learner. He/she will also make the assessor and Quality Nominee aware of the outcome.
- 5. If the learner is still dissatisfied with the outcome of the second stage of appeal, then we move to the final stage of appeal

Stage 3

- 1. The learner communicates the grounds for appeal by completing the final part of the Appeals form and supplying the relevant evidence to the Quality Nominee.
- 2. At this stage the Quality Nominee will call a meeting of at least 3 people to re-examine

- the evidence (at least one of whom should not have been involved with the assessment decision) from the team of BTEC assessors and lead internal verifiers.
- 3. The work will be re-examined by this team and they will complete the part of the Stage 3 form.
- 4. The Quality Nominee will then hold a meeting with the Head of Centre and learners concerned to communicate the outcome of the appeal.
- 5. Learners are allowed to be accompanied by a parent/guardian if requested.
- 6. Written records of all appeals should be kept by the school including the outcome of the appeal and reasons for the outcome.
- 7. A copy of the appeals record should be given to the learner.
- 8. Full details of any appeal must be made available to Edexcel on request.
- 9. Edexcel should be informed by the school if any outcome of an appeal has implications for the conduct of assessments of the issue of results at the school.

This stage should be undertaken within 10 working days

BTEC Assessment Submission Process (Level 1 – 3 excluding NQF Level 1/2 Firsts) Frequently Asked Questions

Can I ask for help on the assignment from my tutor?

Once the assignment has been issued your tutor will not be able to give you any advice on whether you are working towards a specific grade, or provide formal feedback on the work you prepare until it is completed. You must work independently to produce and prepare evidence for your assignment.

What happens if I am ill before the deadline for an assessment?

Assignments must be handed in by their deadline. If you know that you will not meet the deadline and you have a justifiable reason for this (this may need to be submitted in writing); your tutor will be able to assist you on which form you need to complete. If this is approved your deadline will be different to everyone else in your class, but you must still meet the deadline agreed with your tutor.

What happens if I don't hand my work in by the deadline?

You must comply with the deadlines or risk failing your whole unit. By not handing in work on time you will not be eligible for a resubmission if you don't achieve any of the grading criteria. If you do not meet the pass criteria on this submission you will not achieve the assignment and the unit.

I have finished my work by the assessment deadline, what happens next?

You have to submit your work to your tutor with a signed and dated declaration of authenticity, which will confirm that the evidence has been produced by you. [Remember, there are electronic tools that can be used to detect if assignments that might be available online have been used. The tools can also detect if anyone has plagiarised text without making appropriate reference to the original author].

I have submitted my assignment by the deadline. Will I be given the opportunity improve on my grade?

Your tutor will mark your assignment and if they believe that you are capable of achieving a higher grade will ask permission from the Lead Internal Verifier to offer you the opportunity to resubmit. This opportunity is only offered once and there is no guarantee that this offer will be made. Make sure you attempt all of the criterion in order to gain the highest grade with your original submission as this might be your only opportunity to do so.

Will my tutor provide me with help on how to improve my grade?

No. If you have been given the opportunity to resubmit your work in order for you to improve on the original grade, the tutor will only provide you feedback on what you have submitted. You need to read this feedback and see what you might have missed or areas where you haven't analysed or evaluated. Use this information from your tutor to think how you might improve the original assignment.
